Congo

26th Annual Convention of the Apostolic Faith, Congo, titled, 'The Benefits and Glory of Godliness' came up between Sunday, 2 December, 2012 and 16 December, 2012. Delegates came from many Congo provinces including Maniema where delegates have not attended since 1989 due to political unrest. A woman participated in the Convention after travelling more than 4,300km in 15days.

The Convention was preceded by the Conference of Ministers and Gospel Workers on 29 and 30 November, 2012 led by Rev. G. K. Ajayi, Regional Overseer, Lagos Region, Nigeria. The attendance this year was lower than recent attendances because of the weather. Others WECA representatives at the Convention were: Rev. Rachel Fakorede and Brother Yves Ahomian

Over 163 people were blessed with salvation, sanctification, baptism of Holy Ghost, healing, re-anointing and other blessings. A sister came to the first meeting at Camp testified to the power of God. The left side of his body was numb and she was assisted to participate in worship. She prayed and God grace him the three Christian experiences and miraculously, she was healed.

The Management and Saints of Congo Church decided at a meeting that the following conventions would hold in July to enable students whose vacation period is around that time enjoy the Camp Meeting and to make use of the dry weather during this period.
